About American Cancer Society

The American Cancer Society is a nationwide, community-based voluntary health organization on a mission to free the world from cancer. We fund and conduct research, share expert information, support patients, and spread the word about cancer prevention.

Frequently asked questions

Answered by a team member at American Cancer Society

▶ What is your mission?

The mission of the American Cancer Society is to save lives, celebrate lives, and lead the fight for a world without cancer.

▶ How are donations used?

While most people know us for our research, we do so much more. We attack cancer from every angle. We promote healthy lifestyles to help you prevent cancer. We research cancer and its causes to find more answers and better treatments. We fight for lifesaving policy changes. We provide everything from emotional support to the latest cancer information for those who have been touched by cancer. And we do it all 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. You can call us on our helpline 1-800-227-2345 or visit us on cancer.org

▶ What can be done with a $100 donation?

$100 can provide two free nights at an American Cancer Society Hope Lodge community to patients and their caregivers, saving them more than $5,674 in lodging costs. It also has the potential to provide 4 free rides to treatment for cancer patients who would otherwise have no means of transportation.
